2007-2008	Organizational consultant for the community police department. Responsibilities included developing a community policing strategy and engaging volunteers
1995-2007	Organizational consultant at the Police Academy. Facilitated workshops on leadership, teamwork, how to enter a position, persuasion and influence. Consulted commanders on leadership development

7. Scientific Areas of Specialization

My current work focuses on creating an innovative, out-of-the-box linkage between the non-violent resistance approach (Gandhi, M.L. King, Prof. H. Omer) and the way Israel Police deal with violent confrontations with citizens (e.g. the 2005 Disengagement, conflicts with the Arab sector). This work entails a practical importance to Israel's democratic nature and our capability to live in co-existence between different parts of society. In academic conferences abroad, where I present this subject, I can see it provokes significant interest because of its relevance to many European and other countries, as well as the world's involvement in Jews-Arabs relationships.
